Private Property Pesticide By-laws In Canada

Population Statistics by Municipality

The lack of adequate protection from unwanted exposure to lawn pesticides at the federal and provincial level has fueled a growing surge in municipal pesticide ordinances designed to enhance the protection of public health and the environment. The aggregate number of municipal by-laws in Canada currently stands at 171. An additional ten pesticide by-laws are at the draft stage pending adoption.

Municipalities of all sizes have passed various forms of pesticide by-laws. The largest was the City of Toronto with a population of 2.5 million while some are as small as Sainte-Paule, Québec with a population of 229.

Close to 24 million Canadians, or 79.6% of Canada's total population (based on the 2006 Census), are benefiting from enhanced protection from unwanted exposure to synthetic lawn and garden pesticides. This figure includes the gold standard province-wide protection provided under Ontario's Cosmetic Pesticides Ban Act, 2008 and Québec's Pesticide Management Code as well as New Brunswick's and PEI's Pesticide Acts.

This summary report was prepared by Mike Christie (Ottawa, Ontario) based upon Statistics Canada's 2006 Community Profiles released on March 13, 2007 and available online at http://tinyurl.com/2sd2ya. Any errors or omissions should be addressed to mikechristie@rogers.com.

^[1] Former municipalities which previously adopted pesticide bylaws but are now boroughs of the amalgamated Ville de Montréal or Ville de Longueuil.

^{[2] 23} of 27 boroughs moved to implement the Montreal by-law in 2004 and 4 in 2005. Then the demerger of Montreal resulted in 13 boroughs with previous pesticide by-laws added back to the list as full municipalities.
